All things Kenyan

Once finished with Orientation we moved back to Nairobi. We've been immersed in big city living ever since! Swahili classes, cooking, setting up house, hiring house help, meeting Kenyan neighbors and other missionaries, finding a plumber, soccer games at the community field, shopping at dukas, and learning to drive (ok, EJ still hasn't driven yet) have filled our days! Phil was blessed with 7 weeks of learning life in Nairobi as a family before starting at the AIM AIR hangar.

S.P. is our peanut butter supply gal! She is a new believer who lives right down the street. Each time we eat peanut butter, we pray that her Muslim family will come to Christ. Join us in praying!!

Pray for EJ with homeschooling, language learning, and friendships.

New Blog Site

We are changing over to a blog site that AIM provides! www.blohmsinafrica.aimsites.org You can sign up with just an email to get automatic updates whenever we add to it. Our website, blohmlyingnews.com is still functioning; all past newsletters are there, but we won't be adding new things to it.

At the hangar

Phil's first project at the AIM AIR hangar included replacing a Cessna 206 landing gear part. The challenging project ended just in time for the plane's scheduled departure.

It's been exciting for him to be part of the team of folks who make it possible for Africa Inland Mission and other groups to reach the unreached. We are still learning just how valuable this behind-the-scenes work really is.

Pray for Phil with safety, friendships, and wisdom.

CAR for CHRISTMAS

It has become apparent that we need to purchase a family size vehicle soon! The rental car seats 5. The 8 seater we borrow on occasion is not available after Christmas.

Will you pray for this need?

After taxes and fees, a used vehicle can easily cost $10-15 thousand.

Send tax deductible gifts to AIM, with "Blohm Vehicle Fund" in the memo line.

If you give a boy a ball...

If you give a boy a soccer ball, he will find his way to an open field. At the field he will look for someone else to play with. Other boys make their way to the same field. The boy will kick the ball and the others will chase after it. Soon there will be more. It's as if they can smell the ball as it soars across the field.

Soon there will be two teams playing. Sweat will drip from their foreheads. And suddenly, the ball will hit a thorn the length of a hand and pop! The game is over.

Conversations will begin. The boy will invite the thirsty hordes over for water and yogurt ice. He will tell them about his life, about Jesus. He is a light on and off the soccer field. The next day, after the ball is repaired, the boy will begin again.

All of our boys are THAT boy!

Pray for Andrew, Ben, Michael and Matthew!
